Korean 2-set (Dubeolsik) keyboard layout

두벌식

Q Shift

Key

The large character is typed by the key alone. Hold Shift for the one at top right. The small grey letter is the English key it sits on.

The standard 2-set layout, KS X 5002: consonants on the left, vowels on the right. Letters join into a syllable as you type, so ㅎ ㅏ ㄴ gives 한.

Best for: Everyone: it is the layout Korean computers and phones use.
